Product description:

This garden fireplace is an ideal choice for anyone who wants to enjoy the traditional atmosphere of a fire and prepare food in a classic way. It offers a combination of grilling, baking and smoking in one device, ensuring a wide range of uses during family celebrations, friendly gatherings or quiet evenings in the garden. Thanks to its robust metal construction and high-quality workmanship, it guarantees a long service life and reliable operation. In addition, thanks to its location under a pergola or roof, it will retain its permanent appearance even with minimal maintenance. Another practical solution is the possibility of choosing the orientation - the firebox with baking stone can be ordered on the right or left side, so that the fireplace adapts perfectly to your space.

Technical specifications

Why choose this product?

- Universal device for grill, stone and smokehouse in one body
- Solid 3mm steel and granite stone = durability, stability and great thermal performance
- Easy temperature and smoke control thanks to a pair of flaps
- Does not absorb odors - pure flavors even after smoking aromatic foods
- Suitable for pergolas - with minimal maintenance, it maintains a nice appearance for a long time

Recommendations for installation and use: Place on a flat, non-flammable surface and maintain safe distances from flammable materials. To maintain the appearance and durability, we recommend installing under a roof (pergola) and regularly cleaning the flue gas ducts.
